Special Coaching Offer

What are your plans for 2008?

Note: I've carefully avoided the words New Year Resolutions! However, the beginning of a new year inevitably brings with it a sense of excitement about starting afresh, seizing new opportunities.

If you haven't seriously thought about it, now's the time to set some realistic and achievable goals.

- Now that you are back at work, what does the year ahead hold for you?
- Where are you now: in your business, in your career, in life?
- Where do you want to be?
- How do you plan to get there?

Working with a Professional Coach can get you there far quicker than you working alone. To help you get on track, here's a special offer:

Book and pay for 2 coaching sessions and receive a *complimentary third session.

Not only that, I will prepare and send you a précis of your coaching notes at no additional cost (for all 3 sessions)!

Don't just hope it will all work out. Make the decision for a Positive Change and commit to action now:

Call or email Jennifer now to confirm your

The purpose of this Newsletter

Positive Change Consulting shows people how to build great leadership, manage change, improve teamwork for business productivity – and restore balance to your life.

In this newsletter we aim to alert you to the latest research into leadership, report people-related workplace news, suggest ways for encouraging staff involvement to improve your business and alert you to the things we are doing and the services we can offer you.

Occasional newsAlerts aim to alert you to resources and opportunities we might offer as well as some provided by our colleagues & friends in related businesses.
